JEFFREY J. GREER of RHODE ISLAND
To Be Inducted Into NCSLA HALL OF FAME When NCSLA Goes to Washington, D.C. In June 2012!

The National Conference of State Liquor Administrators, Incorporated (NCSLA) will convene June 20-24th at the world-famous Mayflower Renaissance Hotel for its 2012 annual meeting and conference. Washington, D.C. is the host city for the Conference.

You must not miss this year's conference. Why? Because this June in Washington D.C., the NCSLA will honor only its second inductee into the NCSLA HALL OF FAME. With great pride, the NCSLA has voted to induct JEFFREY J. GREER, past President of the NCSLA and former administrator of RHODE ISLAND Liquor Control, into the NCSLA Hall of Fame under Article V, Section 3 (L) of the NCSLA By-Laws based on his contributions to the NCSLA and the beverage alcohol industry.

JEFFREY J. GREER was president of the NCSLA serving from July 1, 2003 to June 30, 2004. Jeff and his beloved wife, NANCY SMITH GREER, were long time supporters of the NCSLA, friends to many and respected by all. Jeff's contributions to the NCSLA include advocating for and establishing the principles of financial control and accountability that fostered the economic viability and visibility that the NCSLA enjoys today. Also, in no small irony, Jeff himself was instrumental in creating the NCSLA Hall of Fame that inducted just one (1) member (Abe Buchman) ... so far.

So, the NCSLA shall pause to honor the contributions and legacy of this special man, as we continue the debate on the merits of the three-tier system, its exceptions, and the need for strong, state-based regulation.

Start making your plans NOW to come to Washington, DC from June 20-24, 2012 for this year's annual meeting of the NCSLA! Conference registration is now open so visit www.ncsla.org today for details!
